New Life

"She has black hair and she weighed almost twenty pounds!" That was the excited proclamation over the phone from big brother, Seth, when his little sister, Mikaya Grace Herdle, made her appearance on August 8.

She really only weighed 7 lb, 7 oz, but she was almost twenty inches long.

Please welcome our newest grandchild and first granddaughter!

New life always intrigues me. It is such a miracle. Scripture says that God knew us while we were being formed in our mother's womb and He scheduled each day of our lives even before we began to breathe.

"Diane, will you please pray with this young man? He wants to ask Jesus into his heart and I have to go and start the morning worship service." Those were the words of our dear pastor a few weeks ago. Little David had just celebrated his ninth birthday two days earlier and had come to visit our church for the first time. One of our teens had invited him. I had the privilege of spending the next half-hour explaining the way of salvation to this precious boy. He knew nothing about the Bible, the Lord, Adam and Eve, sin, or Jesus' death on the cross...it was all new to him. But after a brief overview of Genesis to Revelations, I asked if he understood and if he wanted to ask Jesus to come into his life. We prayed together and I rejoiced with the angels in heaven. Another miracle. Another new life.

Thank you for making it possible for us to remain here. Your gifts to NAIM and your prayers on our behalf keep us going.

Much love,

Dave + Diane
